LIGHTNING KILLS
BOY NEAR LOUISALast Friday's Storm Fatal to Gilmer Thompson's Son.

A boy thirteen years old, son of Gilmer Thompson, was killed by lightning Friday on Mill creek, in Wayne county, W. Va., about five miles from Louisa.

He was sitting on the porch at home during the severe storm that swept over this section that day, when a vivid flash of lightning snapped the thread of life. Death was instantaneous.

The body was very perceptibly burned, the course of the current being easy to trace. No one was near the boy when the tragedy occurred.

The body was taken in charge by the Snyder undertaking establishment of Louisa and transported several miles back in Wayne county to the former home place of Mr. Thompson, where the interment took place.

John M. Berry,
Former Louisa Citizen,
Dies in Huntington

John M. Berry, 61, a veteran of the Union army, died at 10:20 o'clock on Sunday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Bloss, 1053 Tenth avenue, Huntington, after an illness of three weeks.

Mr. Berry was born in Floyd county, Ky., January 29, 1841. He was married in 1863 to Miss Lavinia Graham, of this county. His early married life was spent in Louisa. He moved to Huntington about thirty years ago and for a long time was connected with the Gwinnett mill. Later he was with the Keister Milling Co.

Since the death of his wife, eight years ago, he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Bloss. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Bloss residence, the Rev. D. L. Ash officiating. Mr. Berry was a member of the First M. E. Church.

Death of Rev. Wren
Former Louisa Pastor

Rev. C. E. Wren, for many years pastor of the Institutional Baptist church died at his apartment on Third avenue. He suffered a paralytic seizure following which he never regained consciousness. His remains were removed to the Steele Funeral Home where the last rites were held.

The Rev. Mr. Wren played an interesting and unusual part in the history of Huntington. Twenty years or more ago he conceived the idea of establishing an institutional church in Huntington. At that time there were no churches here with the institutional features which have since become part of the work of almost every important congregation.

Mr. Wren secured property at the corner of Fourth avenue and Fifth street and with the assistance of liberal Huntingtonians, began an ambitious building project. The solid foundations and partially erected walls of a structure of massive stone stand there yet as a memorial to his zeal.

A year ago failing health made it certain that he could never complete his project, and, anxious that his work should serve a lasting and useful purpose, he deeded the institutional church property to the Young Women's Christian Association, Mr. Wren was a native of Bedford county, Va.—Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

Drowns in Backwater
at Catlettsburg

The body of Walter Parson Smithers, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smithers, Upper Valley street, South Catlettsburg who met death by drowning in the backwaters of the Big Sandy river Sunday afternoon, will be taken to Wythe county, Virginia, for burial.

The drowning of the Smithers boy is the first river tragedy of the present season.

Walter and three companions were playing in a John-boat in the backwaters of the Big Sandy which had inundated the land near his home known as the Park Land Company Addition. The boat was tied to the shore.

While playing Walter tumbled head foremost into the water. His frightened playmates ran for help and three men came to the rescue. After a 25 minute search, the body was recovered.

Medical assistance was at hand and artificial respiration was tried without avail.

The river victim is survived by his parents, three brothers and one sister.—Ashland Independent.

Work Going Along
in Blaine Oil Field

The Union Gas & Oil Company is going along with its drilling in the Blaine and Keaton fields. Thirty-two strings of tools are running. Some delay in completing wells has occurred lately because the supply of tubing and tanks has been exhausted. The roads are so bad that it is almost impossible to haul this material from the railroad station. However, teams are dragging some of it in.

The Union's property is producing at the rate of 40,000 barrels per month. Five wells are now at the top of the sand, waiting for tubing and tanks. A well on Joel Kelly's farm flowed 20 barrels in 24 hours.

The Jim Skaggs well No. 7 has come in and is flowing. This is probably the best lease in the field.

P. F. Holbrook well No. 8 is a good one. Sanford Lyon No. 8 is an average well.

Daniel Skaggs No. 4 is making a good average production.

The J. J. Gambill No. 11 made 189 barrels on April 5, after standing two or three days.

William Jasper Van Hoose died at his home in Fort Gay, W. Va., Wednesday afternoon, the 19th. He had been confined to his bed only two weeks. Asthma and heart trouble caused his death. Up to the time of his last illness he was very active for a man of his years. He was erect and never used a cane. Very frequently he was on the streets of Louisa.

The funeral took place at two-thirty o'clock on Thursday in the M. E. Church and the body was taken to the Bartram cemetery, Fort Gay for burial. Rev. L. D. HOLD WAR SAVINGS
STAMPS UNTIL MATURITY

Washington, D. C., April 19.—Owners of the 1918 issue of War Savings Stamps are being advised by Lew Wallace, Jr., Director of the Savings Division of the United States Treasury Department, to hold them until their maturity on January 1, 1923 about 8 months hence. In that period they will earn over 13 per cent interest per annum on the average cost price. It was pointed out.

To give some idea of the advantage of holding these 1918 stamps until their maturity date, Director Wallace states that $1000 worth of stamps, costing $836 in 1918, are worth $926 during the current month, but in 8 months they will be redeemed in cash by the government for $1000, or $74 more than their present cash value.

POISON TABLET
KILLS MRS. STONELawrence County. Young Woman Takes Bichloride
by Mistake.

Mrs. Fred Stone, formerly Miss Josephine Fugate of Fallsburg, this county, died in a hospital at Ashland Sunday. The body was brought to the old home place near Fallsburg for burial.

Death was the result of swallowing a bichloride of mercury tablet, which it is said she believed to be an aspirin tablet. This occurred at her home at Mossy Bottom, Pike county, where she had lived most of the time since her marriage about two years ago. She was taken at once to the hospital, but the poison had found its way into the system before medical aid was reached.

She was a handsome and intelligent young woman who was very much liked by her associates. Her mother is Mrs. Arminia Fugate, a widow owning a farm about 7 miles from Louisa. The husband and several brothers and sisters survive also. The father was killed several years ago in a mine or railroad accident.

CRUDE OIL MAY GO UP NEXT MONTH

Lima, Ohio, April 16.—The past week in the crude oil fields of the United States shows decided improvement in the refined market, and with this situation, many operators are of the belief that crude prices will show increases within the next month. However, a general increase in prices of crude is not probable at this time, as production in many of the fields has reached such a high mark that an advance is entirely out of the question.

The price of gasoline has been advanced this week and the demand will increase when settled spring weather and better road conditions arrive.

Company to Drill 100
Wells in Johnson

A report says the Eastern Kentucky Oil Company, a Delaware corporation, capitalized at $2,000,000 with headquarters in Philadelphia and which has extensive holdings in that territory, intends to drill 100 wells in Johnson county, Kentucky, this year according to announcement just made by one of its officials.

This company recently acquired the Rachael Bayes lease adjoining the Dennis Williams farms, on which Wible & Wheeler recently drilled in a big well. The Eastern Kentucky Oil people have under consideration a deal whereby they will take over the holding of the Fairchilds Petroleum Company. The Fairchilds Company's leases are located on Little Paint creek. All of the drilling machines and equipment on the lease are included in the deal, it is stated.

The Eastern Kentucky Company also has acquired the M. L. Frazier lease, which adjoins the Haden Williams tract. Jesse Hare, contractor, has been employed to drill up this entire lease and he has already started No. 1 well on this property, and signed up for drilling five more wells at once.

State Farm Crops
Tip $512,459,424

Washington, April 15.—Farm products of the United States in 1919 aggregated $21,425,623,615 in gross value, and those of Kentucky $512,459,424, according to figures made public today by the Bureau of the Census.

Kentucky livestock products constituted $50,928,217 of this total, and the estimated gross value of animals sold and slaughtered in that State was $96,800,000. Kentucky crops amounted to $347,338,888; forest products were $16,006,621 and nursery and greenhouse products $785,598.

The "gross value of farm products," the bureau explained, corresponds approximately to the gross value of products for a manufacturing industry. The figures contain, however, some duplication on account of the crops fed to livestock and because of the reselling of livestock.

GIRL IN CAR SLAIN
NEAR ASHLAND

Ashland, Ky., April 14.—Harry Thompson, former convict, 32 years old, was arrested today and charged with the murder of Miss Ethel Darby, 18, who was shot to death last night when she was automobile riding with three others.

The car was fired at as it passed a man on the road.

In the car with Miss Darby were Miss Audrey Young, Ernest Hunt and John Tussey.

The shooting occurred at Meade Station, about four miles from Ashland, near Thompson's garage. Several shots were fired. One bullet passed through Miss Darby's head and she died instantly. The car returned to Ashland before it was discovered the girl was dead.

Miss Darby's companions said the man was ahead of them and that he got out of his automobile at Meade Station, crossed the road and began firing at them. They said he had asked them to race with him.

Thompson was released from prison several months ago after serving a year for the murder of Jim Stuart. It was said he was drunk at the time of the killing.

At the time of his arrest today he was out on bond under charge of making moonshine whiskey.

Oil Operations as Reported for Eastern Ky.

Barbourville, Ky., April 15.—Eastern Kentucky petroleum operations are now hitting a good stride, and reports of the past week's activity indicate a general increase in field work all the way from the Magoffin, Johnson, Lawrence and other pools of the Big Sandy, through Eastern Kentucky to the Wayne-Cumberland district.

The Magoffin-Lawrence-Johnson field is leading all districts of Eastern Kentucky. In amount of new work starting. The Berea sand district of Johnson county reports a number of new wells completed, and what is equally as interesting, the inauguration of service by the new Berea Pipe Line Company, which serves an area in which about 50 producing wells have been drilled. Oil shipped through this line is being marketed to some local refineries, one of which is in operation at Paintsville and another at Catlettsburg. Late completions in Johnson county show up better in the Keaton Fork district, which extends across the Lawrence line.

In Magoffin county a number of operators from older districts of Kentucky are beginning operations. Among these are Petroleum Exploration Co., Superior Oil Corporation, Hudson & Collins and other big interests from the Lee county field. A new test on Lick Branch, Magoffin county, by Holbrook and others, is good for 10 barrels. This well is ahead of production.

Floyd county operations revealed no new strikes during the week. In this latter pool extensive natural gas developments are in progress on Beaver creek, scene of some big strikes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BIG SANDY COAL
MINES RUN FULLStrike is on at Four Mines,
But Others are Operating.

A large tonnage of coal, amounting to nearly 500 cars per day, is going out of the Big Sandy field at present.

Only four large mines are down. These are Whitehouse, Muddy Branch, Van Lear and Auxler. The miners are out at these places in obedience to the strike call or in sympathy therewith. The union is not recognized at any of these places.

At all other points the mines are going full time, and giving the men plenty to do at good wages. The price of coal has been too low to give operators any profit until the last few days, when it has advanced somewhat.

The coal strike has not yet caused any serious trouble in the fields most effected by it. Both sides seem determined to fight it out, if it takes all summer.

JIM BARKER GETS LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Grayson, Ky., April 14.—Jim Barker, charged with the killing of Danny Sparks in Elliott county last June when Sparks, his sister, his aged father and brother were slain by alleged moonshiners as the Sparks family was returning from church, was found guilty in the Circuit Court today and sentenced to life imprisonment in the State penitentiary.

Richard Sparks recently was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Mary Sparks, Danny Sparks 14-year-old sister, who threw herself in front of her brother and stopped a bullet meant for him.

Wesley Sparks, a third member of the party which did the killing, is to be tried here in September.

The slayers and their friends created a reign of terror in this county following the murders. Witnesses were intimidated and some of them left the county under threats.

Some families moved away leaving their crops and livestock in the fields.

The murders were the result of information given to the grand jury by Danny Sparks.

He and the slayers are said to have been partners in a moonshine still until he became converted at a revival meeting, after which he informed against his former associates. The moonshiners were convicted and fined, after which they sought revenge.

The case of Richard Sparks, age 20, for killing Danny Sparks, was transferred to Lawrence county and tried last September.

Already it is apparent that Congressman Langley is up against the hardest fight of his life and the campaign is expected to take a spectacular turn.—Louisville Times.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Read this statement.
W. E. Wiley, farmer, Box 56, Whitehouse, Ky., says: Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly all right, for I have treated with them on different occasions and they always relieve me. My back at times, has ached for quite a spell and there would be a dull kind of ache right across the center of my back. Many a day I had to give up my work on the farm and go and lie down. I was so sore and lame I would have to go about with a cane. I also had blinding dizzy spells and things appeared dark in front of me. My kidneys were irregular in action, the secretions would pass too frequently; then again would be scanty and painful. I tried most everything I heard of for relief, but Doan's Kidney Pills were the only remedy I ever found to reach my case. After using two boxes I was cured and put in good shape for work. I couldn't recommend a better remedy for kidney trouble than Doan's Kidney Pills.

The Congressmen will find that the soldier bonus is not as popular as they figure it to be. Nobody believes the United States can afford just now to pay this enormous sum to able bodied young soldiers. Later on they can be paid even better and it will be done in due time.

Wayne county's two newspapers have no room for anything except the county seat removal matter. The vote will be taken April 25. The Big Sandy News has refused articles from both sides of the controversy, because if we open the flood gates we shall be swamped.

It will be interesting to notice the verdict of the public on the Fatty Arbuckle case. One jury out of three has decided that there was not sufficient proof to hold him on the charge of killing Miss Rappé. But there was a lot of proof showing a night of debauch that this public suspects is quite common amongst Fatty's class. The test will come when his pictures are again offered in the movies.

Under the 1920 law our fiscal court has paid $150 reward to a man who caught three moonshiners and secured their conviction. The law fixes a reward of $50 for each man captured and convicted for this offense and the court must pay it. This law should be very effective in putting an end to moonshining. Without some such inducement there will not be much disposition on the part of neighbors and citizens to take chances on turning up the moonshiners. Usually there is danger in this kind of a task.

Wet officials make the excuse that the "majority" of people are opposed to the prohibition laws and therefore they can't enforce them. All of which is untrue. No proposition ever submitted to the people of the United States has carried by a more decisive majority than prohibition. The officer who ignores his oath of office by winking at violations of this law is just as guilty as if he broke any other obligation imposed by that oath. The law abiding people are disgusted with such an excuse. We are glad to say we have no such officers in Lawrence county.

One puzzle confronting the British is what they will call the House of Lords now that the ladies have been admitted.—Detroit Free Press.

Their predicament is similar to that of the Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives when Mrs. Flannery arose from the Boyd county seat the first time and gave the grand balling sign—"Mr. Speaker?" He couldn't come back with the time-worn recognition "The gentleman from Boyd" because Boyd's Representative was no gentleman. So he saved the day and prevented a riot by saying "The Representative from Boyd" when referring to Mrs. Flannery.

23RD PSALM OF 1922.

We have received several copies of the following, with request to publish, so here goes:

Hearing M. now my Shepherd and I am in want.

He maketh me to lie down in park benches.

He leadeth me beside the free soup boues.

He restoreth my doubt in the Republican party.

He leadeth me in the path of destruction, for his party sake.

Yea! though I walk through the valley of the shadow of starvation,

I do fear evil for thou art against me.

Thou preparest reduction in wages before me in the presence of mine enemies.

Thou anointest my income with taxes.

My expense runneth over my income.

Surely poverty and unemployment will follow me all through the days of this Normalcy Administration, and I shall dwell in a rented house forever.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Why is a handkerchief square? How shocked we'd be at a round or three cornered one. But in the early days individual fancy dictated the shape of handkerchiefs. The story goes that Marie Antoinette once remarked how it bored her to see the various shapes people chose, so the king, anxious to please her in every whim, issued a royal edict, saying:

"The length of handkerchiefs must equal their breadth throughout the kingdom."

OHIO FARM FOR SALE OR TRADE

I have a nice up-to-date home in Pike county, Ohio, which I would trade to a good farm in Lawrence county, Ky., or will sell for cash. Good dwelling house, summer kitchen, good cellar, barn, grainery and corn crib. Well fenced, fine water at kitchen door. If interested write MRS. A. J. MOUNTS, Edgerton, W. Va.

HISTORY OF THE WEBB FAMILY

When the Indians had absolute control of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys a family known as the Webb family came from England and settled in Virginia and was soon a factor in the Virginia colony. They had left England as hundreds of others did, on account of religious persecution and sought the wilds of America where "they could cut their own vines and dig tree without being molested and flogging to make anyone afraid" and worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences.

This family took a prominent part in the struggle for Independence and after the adoption of the Constitution and the Indians had made treaties with the whites the tide of emigration was westward.

In the year of 1826 James Webb emigrated from Virginia to Kentucky and settled on Dry Fork where Webbville now stands. His family consisted of seven boys and three girls of whom John M. Webb was the second son. He was nine years old when he came to the wilds of Kentucky and at the age of 22 he returned to the Cumberland Mountains where he married Miss Elizabeth Sturgill. They returned to Lawrence county and settled on Belltrace where Miles Stewart now lives. While they lived there the following children were born to them: James F., Andy J., Rachel and Jemima. They then moved to East Fork in 1845 where Glenwood now is. The following children were born and raised at Glenwood: Elihu, Wesley, Nancy, Polly, John M., F. R., Lindsey, David and Elizabeth.

There were born to this union eight boys and five girls. James Franklin is the oldest having passed his 81st milestone and lives at Nelsonville, O. A. J., the second son has passed his four score years and lives at Dennis. No one perhaps in Lawrence county is more widely known than A. J. Webb, Rachel, the third born to this union, married Dick Graham and emigrated to Kansas where she died.

Jemima married John Pennington, a veteran of the Civil war and lives at Denton.

Elihu moved from Glenwood to Denton where he was engaged in the mercantile business and died there.

Wesley moved to Ashland and is a prosperous citizen there now.

Nancy married Bill Cooksey and lives at Glenwood near the place of her birth.

Polly married Mont Cooksey, a veteran of the Civil war and lives at Denton.

John M. Jr., settled at Willard and for years was a leading merchant and citizen but sought larger fields and moved to Ashland where he is engaged in business.

F. R. was a prosperous merchant at Glenwood for a number of years but on account of roads emigrated to Ashland where he is the senior member of Webb & Smith, merchants.

Lindsey died when about five years old and was buried at Glenwood.

David was engaged in the mercantile business at Glenwood for a long time but sold his property and moved to Oklahoma where he died in 1921.

Elizabeth became the devoted wife of W. S. Queen and lives at Glenwood, the old home place.

John Webb, Sr., lived to the ripe old age of 92 and passed to his reward loved and respected by all. Elizabeth Webb, his devoted wife, is still living and celebrated her 93rd birthday on the 5th of March. A number of friends and relatives were present and she seemed to enjoy the occasion as much as any present.

Since the death of her distinguished husband she has made her home at Denton at her grandson's, Lindsey Pennington's.

We can't close without the quotation, "The Avon to the Severn runs, the Severn to the sea and Wyckliff's dust is shed abroad wide as the waters he."

This is true of the Webb family. From the great Atlantic ocean where the sun begins to shine leaps across the Rocky Mountains far away to Oregon. The descendants of the Webb family have emigrated to every state in the union and some to foreign lands. Like the Jew, thrown down anywhere they are soon prosperous.

The Webb family has always been influential in religious and political circles though not always arrayed on the same side. Their influence will continue to be felt and their support solicited.

Long live the Webb family.

Judge Cochran Says Prohibition Will Triumph

Reading the newspapers, Judge A. M. J. Cochran of this Federal District Court of eastern Kentucky learns these days that police are smashing moonshine stills in tenement houses of the cities; that thousand-gallon stills are being uncovered in city attics; that moonshiners peddle their stuff on the crowded highways of the great centers of civilization; that men perish or go daft from the poisons distilled by the city moonshiners.

When he reads these things his heart chuckles for his state which has been much maligned as the home of moonshine, where the mountaineer distiller battled the revenuers.

So he says: "Kentucky no longer is the moonshine state. Its status has changed."

He lives in Cincinnati when conducting court in Covington.

Long ago he quitted as the nation's leading authority on moonshiners and their ways.

When prohibition still was being preached only in churches, Cochran was sending moonshiners to the penitentiary.

In 20 years he estimates he has fined or sentenced to prison 15,000 moonshiners and bootleggers.

"On one occasion 21 moonshiners were taken to prison from my court," he says. "A special car was needed to haul them all."

Those were the days when there was romance in moonshining and the best authors wrote novels around the moonshiner on his lonely mountain trail.

Judge Cochran has found them to be square men, being Kentuckians.

There have been occasions, he says, when to go to prison immediately would interrupt the moonshiner's spring planting or his harvesting, thus causing distress to his family which depended on the crop for its livelihood.

So Judge Cochran has permitted the prisoner to go home on bond, finish his planting or his harvesting, and then come back to begin serving his sentence.

And no Kentucky moonshiner ever has failed him.

So it must warm the judge's Kentucky heart when he compares the native Kentucky moonshiner, bad as he is with the sordid samples of moonshiner who infest the large cities.

It is estimated by Kentuckians that in a city like Chicago more moonshine is produced in a week than was produced in the Kentucky mountains in a year in the old days.

Judge Cochran believes the Volstead law does not treat moonshiners rough enough.

He points out that under the old revenue laws he could send a moonshiner to the penitentiary. Now the worst he can do with one, under the Volstead law, is to send him to jail for six months and fine him.

Despite the hundreds of moonshiners and bootleggers who pass thru his court, Judge Cochran has faith in prohibition and its ultimate triumph.

"Prohibition is respected more and more," he says. "Each year its enforcement will be less difficult, for the people see it is a good thing. They can't help seeing the good of it, despite its violation by this minority. The majority of the people are for law enforcement."—Cincinnati Post.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED IN PIKE COUNTY

A well-organized band of counterfeiters, which is said to have been operating for some time in Pike county, has been broken up. It was learned when Harry C. Shappard, United States Secret Service operative, took before United States Commissioner Harris the last of the alleged gang of four, who gave his name as Victor Valsull.

Shappard had previously taken the other three whose names were given as Joe Kish, Joe Egry and Joe Holl, alias Little Joe. All of these men are of foreign birth.

The charge entered against them was counterfeiting, and each was placed under $5,000 bond, which they could not give so were committed to jail. The case will come up for hearing before Judge A. M. J. Cochran during the May term of the United States District Court.

WILLIAM J. BURTON
DIES AT JACKSON, OHIO

William J. Burton was born in Lawrence county, Kentucky, November 17, 1842 and departed this life March 20, 1922, aged 79 years, 4 months and 3 days. On November 10, 1861 he was married to Mary Elizabeth Kitchen and to this union were born 9 children, one of whom, Sarah, with her mother was waiting on the other shore to welcome him home.

The surviving children are: John, William, Harden and Jesse of Columbus, Allen of West Virginia, Nehemiah of Idaho, Judith of Utah and Bennett of near Jackson, with whom he has made his home in recent years. He also leaves to mourn their loss two brothers and three sisters, one of whom, Mariah Chandler of Jackson, was at his bedside in his last hours. Also 27 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

He united in early manhood with the United Baptist church at Blaine, Ky., and became a member by letter of the Candy Run church near Lucasville, Ohio, about five years ago. He was a deacon in the church for more than 20 years and served his church and his God faithfully and gladly. He also served his country, having spent 3 years and 3 months in the Civil war, belonging to Co. B, 14th Regiment, Ky. Volunteer Infantry. He was a good man; to know him was to be his friend. He was respected and honored by all who knew him. He will be greatly missed in the home and in the neighborhood. His passing grieves a host of relatives and friends. He realized he was going and said he was ready when the call came. He was laid to rest in the Pleasant Grove cemetery by the side of his wife Mary Elizabeth Burton, who was called August 5, 1920.

We feel our loss is heaven's gain. Weep not, dear friends, but prepare to meet them in heaven where parting never comes.

Well might he say in the words of this apostle Paul: "I have fought a good fight. I have finished my course. I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous Judge shall give me at that day, and not to me only but unto all them also that love His appearing."

In Memory of
Rev. W. H. Surgeon

Rev. Surgeon departed this life while serving his church as pastor at Wayland, Ky., some few weeks ago.

We learn from a lady that he fell at his post of duty; that he was stricken down in his pulpit and was carried to his home and in a few days he took his departure for that heavenly home that was prepared for him and those like him.

A great man in Israel has fallen. He was a faithful christian and servant of his church. He always responded to the appointments made by his conference without murmur or complaint.

A great many years ago he was sent to Kavanaugh circuit and he was a strong, robust man then. He could sing, pray and preach for weeks without stopping.

When he came to our work he laid his assessment at two hundred and fifty human souls and the toll was fully paid and many over.

Never did this circuit experience such a christian awakening. As I remember he began his work at old Cummings chapel. And I will here relate my experience of the first night of the meeting; I shall never forget that night and I am looking forward to meeting friends in heaven and going over this scene again. "I looked up in the amen corner I saw a man who had told me that he had not gone to church but twice in seven years. His presence lit up my soul with a flame of glory as I had pleaded with him to go to church."

Rev. Surgeon prayed the most powerful prayer I have ever heard fall from human lips. "He prayed that the individual that was nearest death might be the first to come to the altar and be saved." When the invitation was given this man, William Cyrus, came forward and knelt at the altar. To me it appeared that the heavens and the earth had come together in the interest of immortal souls.

I knelt down by the side of this man dealing to pour out my soul. I said, Bill, I am so glad to see you here at this altar. I know you feel your want of salvation. Trust God with all your heart and He will save you right now. For a short time he engaged in prayer, then quietly arose and started out among the people shaking hands. If he failed to shake a single hand in that house it was because of his inability to get to them on account of the vast crowd in the house. If I remember correctly, in less than two weeks, brother Cyrus was stricken with fever and after only a short illness he bid his friends an affectionate farewell and went to his eternal rest. This was just the beginning of his great harvest of souls on this circuit. I feel that our departed brother has done much for our church, I am sure his life has been a benediction to me.

Our Sunday school and our entire family extend heartfelt sympathy to his devoted family and I feel that our Heavenly Father will take care of them.

J. F. HATTEN,
Buchanan, Kentucky.

Jackie Coogan in
"Peck's Bad Boy"

Bein' bad don't hurt you. It's what comes afterwards that causes all the grief.

Generally it's your Ma that comes afterwards; and she sure does wave a wicked wand.

You wouldn't say bein' bad is a gift so much as a habit. It grows on you, like a soft spot in an apple.

So a cop ain't much different from the man who peddles apples on a barrow. They both make money by getting rid of bad habits.

But it's the barrow man who gets rid of his first. He seems ashamed of them, and puts them in the bottom of the bag.

Folks say I'm wicked and will go where all bad boys go.

Won't they be pleased when they learn I'm in the movies!

But I'm in good company. From E. Cobb is down here, too. He writes my subtitles. Maybe you've heard of my friend Irv. He sometimes gets prizes in the papers—mostly when the regular editors are away on vacation.

That's all. Gotta smash another window now.

To The Rural Teachers of Lawrence County:

Louisa, Ky., April 3, 1922.

The present legislature has closed its work and the school law remains practically the same, only a few minor changes which are as follows:

Seven months school term for rural schools with no extra provisions for pay. After this year the sub-district will elect a trustee by the voters and his duties will be set out in the law.

The present legislature appropriated $50,000 for teachers summer schools. This $50,000 goes to defray the expense of teachers who teach in said schools. The teachers who attend are not charged any tuition in said school, neither is it compulsory on teachers to attend, but those who do attend are paid better wages than those who do not attend. The County Board of Education says whether or not that this school shall be organized. The requirements are as follows:

There must be at least two teachers for said school and not less than thirty pupils and the County Board of Education furnishes the rooms for said school and pays one-half of teaching expense and the State the other half. All teachers who think they will attend said summer school, please notify me. I have application blanks in my office for teachers who wish to apply for schools in Lawrence county. They may be had by calling at my office or they will be mailed on application. These blanks are just the same as last year.

I wish to call each teachers attention to the fact that you apply to the County Board of Education for appointment and not to me. You address your letter to me because I am Secretary of the Board of Education by the law saying that I am such. When you are appointed as teacher by said board then I must place you in a school some where in the county. The law says that each teacher must be placed where he or she is best fitted to teach and I wish to say that this will be done to the best of my ability without favor to any one unless this favor is merited.

As to the salary of teachers this year I am not able to say just what it will be but from my best knowledge the salary will not vary much from the present year.

I have been requested by the State Superintendent to call your attention to the certificate law which requires all applicants for teachers certificates after July 1, 1922 to have at least one year of high school and five weeks of professional training before they are eligible to be admitted and the work must be in a school supported by the State or the work must be recognized by the State.

Teachers may take the examination in both May and June without the above qualifications.

Anyone now holding a certificate will teach the life of said certificate without high school and professional training but on a minimum wage.

One school does not pay any more than another. Teachers pay this year is made up of preparation as you see in the following schedule which is not filled out but later it will appear in the paper filed out.

All persons desiring to apply for trustees place will please do so between now and May 10, for on this day new trustees will be appointed in the various districts in the county.

Some teachers call at my office and ask me if I have any idea where they are going to teach. I tell them no and then they say John Jones told me he was going to teach in district X. I wish to say to John or any other teacher that he is mistaken if he thinks I have promised him a certain school. I have not made any promises at all from the fact that no teacher have yet been appointed.

I have been teaching school for at least 26 years and the schools have been for the teacher instead of the children. I have taught several schools in my time just because it was my friends and I who had the control in the district, the children not being considered in the least. I am placing the teachers this year and the children of the district will be first considered and teachers convenience second.

In Touch With The Outside World

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

THE NON-CHURCH GOER

Why do men neglect church attendance? If you mean all men do not attend church you are in error. It is true that far too many stay away from divine worship. The following reasons can be assigned why certain classes neglect this important duty:

FIRST: A seared Sabbath conscience sends men to the golf links on the Holy Sabbath.

SECOND: The gasoline mania causes thousands to take the family, the dog, and the lunch basket into the automobile early Sabbath morning when they begin to break the Ten Commandments the speed laws, the rules of domestic tranquillity and Sabbath observance.

THIRD: Screenitis sends thousands into the motion picture houses, where they make a pagan attack upon God's Holy Day.

FOURTH: Laziness keeps thousands at home wrapped in the bed clothes of indolence and flth—too indolent, sloven and flthy to dress and attend divine worship.

FIFTH: False conception of worship, or because the sermon is poor, or the minister worse than dead, they drift into the habit of neglecting church attendance.

SIXTH: A large number of those who stay away do so because they are plain pagans; their education is defective; their breeding is below the standard. They are just plain heathen. No well-bred, well-trained, modern, up-to-date, and otherwise normal man stays away from church services. The bum, gambler, fraud, embezzler, outcast, loafer, and the scum of the earth stay away from church. Behold the crowd with which the non-church goer can be classed.

SEVENTH: There are thousands of business, professional, political, and unofficial men who neglect church because they are conscious of the fact that they are grossly sinful, selfish, conceited, and derelict in the performance of their duties. They dread to face the gospel mirror wherein they can behold their own faces over which is written guilt. They know that if they face the gospel as expounded from God's infallible word they will have to surrender their selfish, mean, conceited business and professional attitude toward the church and the gospel.

The conceited professional man tries to build for himself a code and produces a state of self-satisfaction, self-righteous, and self-centered contentment, which he does not want disturbed by the courageous presentation of the full gospel of Jesus Christ. Men are neglecting to attend church because they are afraid to face the judgment gospel. Men are staying at home or they are going on the fields of pleasure or they are attending to business because of their innate and overt and continued meanness. They are trying to avoid the doctrine of responsibility, accountability, and judgment. They are foolish. Every sensible man ought to prepare to meet his God. Every desirable, worthy citizen ought to be found in his pew every Sunday morning worshipping God and paying his honest obligations to the church of Jesus Christ.

MILO

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

New Every Morning. Every day is a fresh beginning. Every morn is the world made new. You, who are weary of sorrow and blinning.

Here is a beautiful hope for you—A hope for me and a hope for you. All the past things are past and over. Tasks are done and tears are shed. Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover; Yesterday's wounds which smarted and bled. Are healed with the healing which night has shed.

Yesterday now is part of forever. Bound up in a sheaf, which God holds tight.

With glad days, and sad days, and bad days, which never Shall visit us more with their bloom and blight.

Their fullness of sunshine or sorrowful night.

Let them go since we cannot relieve them.

Cannot undo, and cannot atone; God in His mercy, receive and forgive them.

Only the new days are our own. Today is ours and today alone.

Here are the skies all burnished brightly.

Here is the spent earth all reborn.

Here are the tired limbs springing lightly.

To face the sun and to share with the morn.

In the charm of the dew and the cool of the dawn.

Every day is a fresh beginning. Listen, my soul, to the glad refrain.

And in spite of old sorrow and older sinning.

And puzzles forecasted and possible pain.

Take heart with the day and begin anew.

—O—

To most youngsters, mother's incessant habit of picking up seems very useless and they can see no reason why it does any harm for their coats and hats to be draped across the chairs in the living room or for the floors of their bedrooms to be littered with an assortment of shoes. But mother knows if she didn't cultivate this very annoying habit, she would soon be buried under the debris. Of course, to the younger members of the family, there seems to be no danger of such a thing for they never see more than three coats and six pairs of shoes out of place at one time thanks to mother's vigilant eye. However some day they should just stop and count the things they have left out of place and they would surely be surprised. Then they would understand mother's constant demand that they pick up their belongings.

Quite often when we think of the hardships that were endured by our pioneer fathers, we cannot but wonder what the girls of today would do under the same circumstances. Did the hard life make those brave enduring wives and would they have been just as spoiled if they had lived in the present "day of luxury"? That may seem a little hard on our girls, but isn't it true that they do expect a great deal more from life, especially after they are married, than they are willing to put into it? Thank goodness, this is not true of the small town girls as much as it is of the city girl.

—O—

Work, love and play make a strong trio. They brace and reinforce each other. Yet they all leave us rudderless and unsatisfied without prayer. They can attain creative power only in worship, which is the source of originality, because it sends us to our origin. The harder we work and play and the more intensely we devote ourselves to whomever and whatever we love, the more pressing is our need for refreshing ourselves in an appeal to God.

—O—

Boastfulness is a wretched habit but the other extreme is just as bad. Because sooner or later people are going to believe you when you say you don't know anything. A psychoanalyst would tell you that you have an "inferiority complex" which, in plain English, means that you have a habit of telling everyone what a poor worm you are.

POEM BY UNCLE JOHN

RESTLESS WAVES.

Tell me not in hopeful numbers, life is saved by drinkin' "Jake"—for the man is dead that slumbers in a jag from moonshine make. Soft drinks don't improve the system—near-beer ain't no bosom friend. Them old highballs—how we've missed 'em, spiked with bar-keep's favorite blend!

Now, I front the sods-fountain—somehow, can't suppress the yinks—when my thirst could climb a mountain, I abhor them fuzzy drinks. Not enjoyment, and not sorrow, fothers in their kickless wake. Man can't steal, or beg, or borrow snifters like he used to take!

Like a dose of aqua-fortis, home-made icker finds the spot—but the fits, an' rigor-mortis—I would jes' as soon be shot! Saw it lately in the paper, feller made a jug of "Hootch." When he went up in a vapor, neighbors said it beat the Dutch. Then, it said another duffer, tryin' out his private make—awful how it made him suffer,—knocked him colder than a snake! Let us, then, be up and doin', with a heart that ne'er forgets. Ain't no suds that's with the brewin'—ence the dya kerkopped the wets. Let us always all remember that the people has the say. Law is law in June, December, or in March, so let's obey.

C. Bowles, F. T. Hatcher, W. E. Flannery, J. P. Hobson, R. Rutherford, Fonso Wright, W. W. Reynolds, W. P. Hughes and O. L. Mulliken.

Venerable Woman Dies
Mrs. Martina Smelcher, age 87, died at the home of her son, John Rich, just across the river from South Pikeville, Tuesday. Mrs. Smelcher is the last of one of Pikeville's pioneer families; her brother, Arch Huffman, having preceded her to the grave several years ago. Mrs. Smelcher formerly married George Rich, an Englishman, who mysteriously disappeared more than half a century ago, just after he had learned that a large estate had been left him in England. Later, she married John Smelcher, who died about ten years ago.

She is survived by two sons, John Rich of Pikeville and Tim Rich of Springfield, Ohio.

The deceased was prominently related here. Her nephew, R. T. Huffman, is postmaster at Pikeville. T. N. Huffman is a coal operator and W. T. Huffman is a local merchant. Her niece, Mrs. Florence Triplett, is one of Pikeville's well known ladies.

The funeral was conducted at the home of Jno. Rich by the Rev. A. D. Cline, after which the interment took place in the Pikeville cemetery.

Postoffice Robbers Convicted
John Scott, alias John Smith, and Lawrence Scott, alias Leonard Crawford, both of Hardy, were convicted recently of robbing the postoffice at Elmer, Pike county. They were sentenced to the Atlanta prison; John for one year and Lawrence for four years. The night they were sentenced Lawrence broke jail at Frankfort and has been at large since. Lawrence was the more desperate of the two characters and this accounts for his receiving the longer sentence.

Later, Phillips, who was drinking, made his way to the home of Sturgill and went to the barn where Sturgill had gone to feed his mules. Just what took place at the barn we did not learn, but when the trouble was over Phillips was suffering from a pistol shot which had taken place in the lower limb.

Her 90th Birthday
A letter from Woodrow Wilson today was in the proud hands of Mrs. Salina C. Hampton as she celebrated her ninetieth birthday. The former president had written Mrs. Hampton to say he had learned she was formerly a classmate to Miss Jessie Woodrow, who later became the mother of nation's chief executive.

The letter came to the venerable Catlettsburg matron yesterday. It recalled the days when Mrs. Hampton, then Miss Salina Hite, attended the Steubenville (Ohio) Female College and knew as her favorite classmate Jessie Woodrow, familiarly known to the scholars as "Jenny."

All day yesterday Mrs. Hampton was the recipient of many flowers, notes, mementoes and callers. She is the oldest member of the Catlettsburg Methodist Episcopal Church South and has been beloved of the congregation for many, many years. Mrs. Hampton is the mother of Miss Mary Mason and George Mason.

Some time ago there appeared an article in a newspaper relating the incidents of Mrs. Hampton's acquaintance with Jessie Woodrow in the class of 1847 at Steubenville. Apparently copies of the article found their way to Mr. Wilson at Washington and prompted him to write Mrs. Hampton.
